WHICH SIDE ARE YOU ON?

The water question is the principal subject of conversation these days. In the stores, on the corners, in the homes, and indeed in the fields it engages the attention of all who are interested in the welfare of this historic old place. There are those who ardently champion the proposed plan and there are those who with equal fervor oppose it. It is interesting to listen to the arguments adduced. They range all the way from the idle vapors of the talkative and bumptious to the reasoned and cogent earnestness of the sober, intelligent citizen.

Both sides are controlled by selfishness, but there is a difference. The selfishness of the one side may be fitly called individual and narrow, and that of the other, generous and wholesome. The former, described as narrow and individual, dislikes the idea of anybody but itself making anything and it is especially outspoken when in any way its pocket book is affected. It says, "Let well enough alone," and everything is good enough for it. Such people are a backset to a growing community or a stagnant community that wishes to grow. They are obstructionists pure and simple. They cannot get outside of their individual selves. They cannot look at a proposition from any point of view other than the immediate present and its personal necessities. Such people may give to charity, but they are essentially selfish. The latter—the generously selfish—indeed, has an eye to its own welfare. It expects to make in the long run, but it will make with the rest. It sees something more in life than eating and sleeping. It counts comfort and beauty as necessary to complete life. It wishes to beautify the whole so it, as a part may be more beautiful. It wishes to enjoy that which it has a right to enjoy. It wishes to keep in touch with progress. It wishes to know itself to be a part of the world. It is alive to possibilities.

COUNTY GLEANINGS.

Superintendent E. W. Davis is considering the place of holding the Teachers' Institute. Healdsburg and Petaluma are rivals for the Institute.

Suit was instituted Tuesday by the Petaluma Savings Bank to foreclose a mortgage against the Sonoma and Marin Agricultural Society, a corporation, William Hill and Al Wilson for the recovery of $9,000 with interest from August 22nd, 1895, at the rate of 9 1/2 per cent compounded semi-annually, and counsel fees in the sum of $500 and costs of suit.

John Mize committed suicide near Santa Rosa last Sunday by swallowing carbolic acid. Mize attempted to commit suicide about two years ago, when he shot himself in the head with a revolver, but recovered. He carried a big bullet in his forehead for nearly three years without any apparent suffering. Last week Mize went to Napa for arraignment in the courts there on a criminal charge.

A shooting scrape occurred in Bloomfield on Tuesday evening in which Tom Kelly, barkeeper and owner of the Hub Saloon, shot a man named R. A. Stewart, the wound being serious but not necessarily fatal. The bullet, which was of 32 calibre, entered Stewart's right side and emerged near the arm. The shooting was the result of a drunken row. Stewart and three others had been drinking in Kelly's saloon and endeavored to make the latter treat, but he refused. Stewart left the place saying he would return and compel the barkeeper to set up the drinks. In a short time he did come back and after a few words Kelly pulled a gun and snapped it several times, it finally went off with the above result. The shooter surrendered himself to Deputy Sheriff Lewis Johnson and is now in custody. He claims self defense and will have his hearing at Bloomfield on Thursday. Both men are said to bear unsavory records, and have been in trouble before. Stewart it is said, once forged another man's name to an order and narrowly escaped imprisonment. Both were known to carry pistols, and have flourished them on several occasions. Stewart worked for a year on the Bloomfield ranch of W. P. Hinshaw. The shooting caused great excitement in Bloomfield.

FOSTER WINS.

Sydney Smith Loses His Case in the Supreme Court.

Friday of last week the Supreme Court decided the case of Smith vs. Foster. The latter, who is President of the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway Company, wins the case on every point. Two years ago when Messrs. Foster, Smith, and Markham purchased a controlling interest in the above railway they agreed to pool their stock for five years. The condition of the agreement was that the majority of the stock in the pool should control the whole stock, which should be voted by the majority, as a unit. After a year Smith kicked against the agreement to which he was one of the partners and tried to vote his stock with another interest in the road, thereby giving to them the control. Foster called a meeting and in spite of Smith's protest voted his stock in accordance with the syndicate agreement.

Whereupon Smith sued to force Foster to receive and count the vote of his (Smith's) stock as he wanted to vote, taking the control of the road from the Foster contingent, mainly on the ground that such agreement as he had made was against public policy, something that did not occur to him until he fell out with his partners.

The lower court seemed to favor the Smith view of this knotty question and it went to the court of last resort for adjudication. Last Friday evening the court handed down its opinion overruling every proposition advanced by Smith, holding that he was bound by his agreement with his partners, and that they had a right to vote his stock in accordance with that agreement. This ties up the Smith stock absolutely for the term of the agreement, which has yet two years to run, and leaves the management of the road in the hands of Foster and Markham.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

The Poultry Show.

Charles F. Earle, one of Sonoma Valley's most prominent poultry raisers, has placed us under obligations for a complimentary ticket to the poultry show which opens in Oakland to-day and continues until January 31st. The show is given under the auspices of the Pacific Poultry and Pigeon Association of which Mr. Earle is a member. He is also an exhibitor and winner of many prizes. The show will be exceptionally attractive this year and will bring to gether many prominent raisers from all over the State.

Wheeler's I X L Compound.

The claim that Wheeler's I X L Compound was the first known and is still the most successful preventive of the curl leaf to the peach is now no longer disputed. It was also the first insecticide which could be applied to the tree when dormant, when in blossom and when in fruit, of the same strength each period, and secures cleaner vegetation, better quality of fruit and much finer foliage all through the growing season. Now, when these facts are disputed it will be by some one who did not give it a fair trial, was biased against it, or so prejudiced that he could not decide impartially. When orchardists use it for years in succession and a tree affected with the root knot is unknown, or where the sour sap was fatally prevalent and now no longer prevails, the contradiction is given that it is a failure. It is used upon hundreds of orchards, and there is not one who has used it for three years in succession but can show better and cleaner trees gotten at one-half the expense that can or has been obtained from the lime, sulphur and salt mixture. If your store keeper has not got it then send to the Wheeler Co., 3660 Nineteenth street, S. F. for it. See ad. in another column.

Frank Colbey, charged with robbing the store of L. S. Goodman at Bodega, was arraigned Monday and pleaded guilty. He will be sentenced next Monday.

Tired, Weak, Nervous, Than because of the work itself. Every physician says so, and that the only remedy is in building up by taking a good nerve tonic, blood purifier and vitalizer like Hood's Sarsaparilla. ## The Greatest Monarch

Is a fit subject for pity? If he is troubled with dyspepsia, while his poorest subjects who digest properly may well be envied by a prince thus afflicted. The dyspeptic of every clime and nation owe a debt of gratitude to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which rescues them from one of the most obstinate and troublesome complaints against which medical skill is directed. On this continent, in Europe and the tropics, this sterling remedy is pre-eminently and justly popular, not only as a stomachic, but also as a means of preventing and curing malarial, rheumatic, kidney, bilious and nervous disorders. It improves appetite and sleep, hastens convalescence and the acquisition of vigor after exhausting maladies, and counteracts the infirmities of age. A wineglassful taken before retiring has a tendency to promote tranquil, health yielding sleep, a boon much coveted by nervous invalids.

AMPUTATED.

Mrs. Philip Bill's Right Leg Sacrificed in Order to Save Her Life.

Mrs. Philip Bill, wife of the well-known foreman of the Heller vineyards, submitted to the amputation of her right limb above the knee on Tuesday evening last. The operation was performed by the surgeons of St. Luke's Hospital, San Francisco, and was necessitated in order to save the patient much suffering and eventually her life. For the past seven weeks Mrs. Bill has suffered excruciating pain in the knee cap, the result of a slight injury received when she was fourteen years of age. From time to time since then the member has given her more or less trouble and a number of years ago she was treated at the German Hospital for six months, and it was then thought that the cure was permanent. Lately, however, she has suffered much pain and for the past seven weeks had been unable to get a night's rest.

When placed on the operating table the surgeons, who had hopes of saving the leg, after baring the bone of the knee cap, discovered that the injury had so badly diseased the marrow of the limb that amputation was necessary. That Mrs. Bill might be enabled to forego amputation for from one to nine months, but that eventually the leg would have to come off in order to save the patient's life. Mr. Bill, who was present during the examination, was given one minute, while his wife, who was under the influence of opiates, lay on the operating table, to decide as to whether or not the limb should be amputated. Under this trying ordeal the husband, knowing how his wife had suffered the past few weeks and having confidence in the skill of the surgeons and the eventual recovery of his wife, consented to amputation before the minute was up. The operation was then performed and Mrs. Bill, being a strong and robust woman, quickly rallied and it is anticipated by the surgeons of St. Luke's that she will be able to leave the hospital in three weeks and return to her home, but it will be several months before she will be able to attend to her household duties.

Wants a Divorce.

A dispatch from San Jose, under date of the 18th inst., says that Mary A. Lounibos has commenced a suit for divorce from J. G. Lounibos. The plaintiff in the action was married to young Lounibos at San Leandro, Alameda county, in 1894. She alleges in her complaint that soon after her marriage she left him and returned to her former home. She further avers that her husband entreated her to return to him and that his father, J. Lounibos, promised to deed to her a home at El Verano, near this place, valued at $5,000, if she would return. She accepted her father-in-law's offer, but in a short time she again left and went to San Jose. She now wants a divorce, alleging cruel treatment, and wants half of the community property, valued at $7,000. Mr. Lounibos, Sr., is also made a party to the suit to compel him to convey to plaintiff the home at El Verano. The defendants to the suit, father and son, are old and highly respected citizens of Sonoma Valley and their many friends will regret to learn that the marriage of a few years ago should end in divorce proceedings.

Broke His Arm.

Old man Fothergill, while gathering wood in the vicinity of Schocken's basalt block quarries, fell from a cliff, on Wednesday morning last, and broke his left arm near the shoulder. The injured man, who is over eighty years of age, after having the broken limb set by Dr. Walliser, was taken to the County Hospital at Santa Rosa the following day. Fothergill appears to be a victim of misfortune. It is less than a year ago that he was shot in the face, near where he met with his recent accident, by a careless hunter, but subsequently recovered from his wounds.

At the Eagle Hotel, Santa Rosa, the citizens of Sonoma Valley will find good accommodations at reasonable rates. See ad.

City Trustees.

At a regular meeting of the City Trustees held last Wednesday evening the following bills were passed:

J. H. Albertson, poll tax rebate.....	$ 2.00
R. A. Poppe, seal, etc.....	6.20
J. D. Wagon, labor.....	5.00
P. G. Keil, labor, etc.....	5.75
Geo. Spanning and F. Fouts, gravel.....	45.75
ten Bosch & Chessmore.....	6.50
John Revie, hauling gravel.....	21.75
Mrs. J. A. Poppe, supplies.....	3.85
A. M. Haraszthy, gravel.....	21.00
Total.....	$117.00

The claim of F. Pezzaglia for $10 rebate on a saloon license was rejected.

President Seipp reported that he had interviewed Mrs. J. M. Knight and E. P. Cutter in regard to their alleged claims against the city for damages. He asked for further time in his endeavors to adjust the matter, which was granted on motion of Trustee Poppe.

The following resolution in regard to the official seal of the city was introduced and carried:

Resolved, That under and by virtue of the power vested in this Board by law to adopt an official seal, and alter the same at pleasure, and pursuant to the resolution of this Board passed at a regular meeting thereof on the 12th day of November, 1896, authorizing the Clerk to have the present seal of the City of Sonoma altered and changed in the manner and form as ordered by said resolution of the Board, and the Clerk having had such changes and alterations in the present seal made and submitted the same to this Board, and the said changes having been made in conformity with the requirements of said resolution and being satisfactory in all respects, an impress of said seal, amended and altered, being annexed, it is hereby ordered that the device and seal as submitted be and the same is adopted as the official seal of the City of Sonoma to be used henceforth in the authentication of all records and papers to which the seal of the City of Sonoma shall be required to be affixed.

The Marshal was instructed to notify all persons obstructing the street on Napa and Second-street East to remove all brush and other obstructions.

The Board then adjourned.

That Fox Terrier.

Mr. C. F. Rothe of San Francisco, accompanied by his mischievous fox terrier "Topsy," visited Rhinefarm several days this week. "Topsy," who is a city bred dog, enjoyed his first visit to the country immensely. The first night he got mixed up with a span of mules on the place and came near having the life kicked out of him by the "mewels." The following day he made an onslaught on the jack rabbits in the vineyards and succeeded in overhauling and killing eight of the fleet-footed animals. He then went after bigger game and tackled a number of calves grazing on a hill side hard by and chased and stampeded them all over the place. Flushed with victory on every side "Topsy" then essayed to wipe out all the cats on the ranch. Here he met with signal defeat. The Toms and Tabbys would have none of it, and the way they sailed into that fox terrier was a caution. He staid with it, however, and when he came out of the combat with an ear nearly clawed off and scratches too numerous to mention he was a wiser if not a better dog. In future he will evidently give the feline race a wide berth and particularly the breed that perambulates Reinefarm.

Robbery.

A bold robbery was committed on Thursday of last week at the Fair ranch at Lakeville while the men were at breakfast. Two tramps went through the cabin occupied by the work hands, taking everything in sight, also a trunk belonging to Wm. Hoffman, which was supposed to contain money. They carried it some distance in the field before they broke it open, but found nothing of any value. It was very fortunate that Mr. Hoffman visited Novato last week where he invested his money in a chicken ranch owned by his brother.

Wine Sale.

J. Wegner, the well-known wine-grower of Glen Ellen, has sold his cellar of fine wines to Lachman & Jacob of San Francisco. The puncheons are now being shipped to that city on the cars of the Southern Pacific railroad. A good figure was obtained for the wine, which is of fine bouquet.

Go to any grocer and ask for Schilling's Best tea: Japan, English Breakfast, Oolong, Ceylon, or the Blend.

He will pay you your money back if you don't like it.

SCHILLVILLE SIFTINGS

Miss Mattie Goodman visited Sonoma friends last Monday.

The weather has been disagreeably cold down this way the past week.

Miss E. Philippi of San Francisco is rusticated on the Anton Kiser farm.

Henry Stademan and John Mallon visited Lakeville last Wednesday on business.

Mrs. Lydia Waugaman of San Francisco is the guest of her parents at Eden Dale.

Chas. Carhill, formerly in charge of the Prunty ranch near Sonoma, has taken up his residence among us.

Robert Donahue is expected home this week after a prolonged stay in San Francisco and Alameda.

Considerable work has been done on the roads in this neighborhood lately, a much-needed improvement.

The Misses Julie Sciligo and Minnie Belster of Napa visited Mrs. Anton Kiser and family last Sunday.

Mrs. Robt. Howe has returned to Eden Dale after a pleasant visit of two weeks with relatives in San Francisco.

Mr. Walter Lord and Rose Herbst have returned to San Francisco after a pleasant visit on the Lord farm.

Prof. John McNeil met with a painful accident last Monday by falling off his bicycle. He expects to be up and around, however, in a few days.

Chas. Ohm and other local fishermen caught several large salmon in Sonoma creek this week. One of them tipped the scales at fifteen pounds.

Greek fishermen are seining daily at the mouth of Sonoma creek, which accounts for the small run of salmon this season. The attention of the Fish Commissioners is called to the matter.

The new county road which will connect Schellville with the Napa county road, through the lands of the Schell Bros and others, will be a great convenience to the people of this part of the valley.

Duck shooting in the Sonoma marshes and trout fishing in Sonoma creek has attracted quite a number of hunters and fishermen to Embarcadero and Vollmar's Hotel is doing a rushing business.

The venerable Stephen Akers, who is 86 years of age, was seized with a sudden fainting spell, one day this week, and for a short time it was thought he was dying. The old gentleman, however, was revived by the members of his family and is now as well as ever.

S. Schocken is shipping large quantities of paving blocks to San Francisco per schooner Four Sisters. These blocks have been piled up at the landing for several years awaiting a favorable opportunity to dispose of them to the street contractors of that city.

The INDEX-TRIBUNE is much sought after in this place and vicinity and those who do not take the paper borrow it from friends and neighbors. Now, "Trilby" does not think this is doing the correct thing by Sonoma Valley's old stand-by. If the INDEX-TRIBUNE is good enough to read it surely ought to be good enough to subscribe and pay for. However, nearly everybody down this way takes the paper and reads it.

Jim Shaw of Kenwood was in town last Tuesday circulating among his many friends.

Some needed repairs will soon be made to the county road leading to the California Home and also to the Graham canyon road.

Messrs. Hays and Atkinson, representing the Parmelee Library Company, are meeting with considerable success in this vicinity.

The surveyors for the electric road are still in this vicinity, and from what we can learn the road will be in course of construction in the near future.

PERSONAL AND SOCIAL

And Other Matters of Interest to the General Reader.

(Contributed by Marjorie Dow.)

Items of a personal and social nature are thankfully received at this office and will be edited by Marjorie Dow.

Miss Sadie McHarvey is visiting with relatives in Vallejo.

The many Petaluma friends of Benjamin Weed are delighted at the news of his approaching marriage to Miss Eva Gundlach, so says the Courier of a recent date.

Mrs. Julius Poppe, who has been very ill for several months, is still confined to her bed.

Bicycle riding will be more popular among our people the coming season than ever before. Soon many new riders will be seen pedaling along the highways on their "silent steeds."

Mrs. Harry Faithful, who for the past eleven weeks has been confined to her home with dropsy, is now lying at death's door.

Miss May Powell, late of Iowa, and Mr. Henry Ward, book keeper at the California Home for Feeble-Minded, were united in marriage last Sunday at the McLeod residence on Cherry street. Santa Rosa. Mr. Ward and his bride have gone south on their wedding tour and upon their return will take up their residence at Eldridge.

Thos. Erskine was a visitor in the metropolis last Saturday.

The Sonoma Grammar School, Vernon Goodwin principal, opened Monday with increased attendance.

The Congregational Church choir gave a service of songs last Sunday at the California Home for Feeble-Minded Children. The programme was well received and as follows: quartette, "O, Sing unto the Lord;" chorus, "Sun of my soul;" solo, "The Holy City;" Miss Hope; quartette, "Jesus Lover of my Soul;" chorus, "Guide Me;" duet, "Oh that I had the Wings of a Dove;" chorus, "Hasten Sinner to be Wise;" Euphonium solo, Claude Johnson; chorus, "How Lovely is Zion;" chorus, "Depth of Mercy;" chorus, "Come Unto Me;" solo, "In the Secret of His Presence;" Clark Gaines; chorus, "Nearer My God to Thee."

Harry Perry, who has been confined to his home the past few weeks by sickness, is now slowly improving, but is not able to be at work.

Vernon Goodwin, principal of the Grammar School, witnessed the execution of Roe in Napa last week.

Miss Meta Stofen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Stofen, led the German given by the Rastus Club, in Santa Rosa, last week. The affair was a most brilliant one.

Miss Nellie Stevenot of San Francisco is the guest of the Misses Haraszthy.

M. J. Striening of Santa Rosa was in town this week.

Attorney F. T. Duhring has been confined to his bed with la grippe several days the past week.

Geo. H. Cassidy on Wednesday last returned from a two week's visit to his brother in Cloverdale.

Mrs. Julius Wegner of Glen Ellen has been confined to her bed the past two weeks with a severe attack of la grippe.

The Sonoma Valley Union High School String Club has engaged excellent string music from Santa Rosa for its comedy drama and hop on the evening of February 22d.

Thos. T. Dille, who has been in El Verano the past three months, will leave for his home in San Francisco to-morrow.

Dr. A. E. Osborne, the popular and well-known Superintendent of the California Home for Feeble-Minded Children, was one of the doctors present at the examination of the brain of murderer Roe in San Francisco the past week. The physicians found that Roe was irresponsible for his murderous impulses owing to the Indian blood which flowed through his veins.

THE BREATH OF HAMPSHIRE HEATH.

The wind of Hampshire heath still burns my cheek
As, home returned, I muse and see arise
Those rounded hills beneath the low, gray
skies.
With gleams of haze lapped cities far to seek.
These can picture, but how fitly speak
Of what might not be seen with searching eyes.
And all beyond the listening ear that lies,
Best known to birds and seers in times antique!
The winds that of the spirit rise and blow
Kindle my thought and shall for many a day,
Recalling what blithe presence filled the place
Of one who oftentimes passed up that way,
By garden close and lane where hedges bend
low,
Until the breath of Hampshire touched his face.
—Edith M. Thomas in Century.

THE BAXTER FAMILY.

On those nights when the theaters and the like find no favor with me I linger in Uncle Reuben's dim lit place
until the last grateful guest has gone,
and, sipping the "madeery," listen
through the long hours to the quaint old darky's stories of his people and his south—cheerily told old tales of hot passions, heart conquests, harsh days, happy nights and all that life which was at once the color and character of the time now dead and gone forever out of the sunlight and into the shadow of Dixie.

In all the years of his life in New York I do not think Uncle Reuben has ever quite reconciled himself to his environment, and there is the tone of affection and admiration in his voice
when he speaks of those Baxters who had been his masters. All the Baxter women were angelic, all the Baxter men were brave. Reuben was himself a Baxter if you asked him for his lineage.

Uncle Reuben's restaurant was almost deserted the other evening at the late hour when I dropped in for a baked bass and a bottle of his "madeery." The old negro came shuffling forward at my entrance and, with a "How d'ye do?"
began to spread the snowy cloth.

"Whut kin I sarve yuh t'night,
suh?"

"One of those fish, Uncle Reuben; the way I like it."

"Yes, suh, and the order went into the kitchen. Uncle Reuben returning as soon as he had given his directions for the cooking.

"Been outen the city, suh?"

"Yes, Uncle."

"Wes' Ten' see, maybe?"

"No; North Carolina."

"No'th Carolina? Wuz yuh meetin any folks down thah by the name uv Bon-
well?"

"I hadn't that pleasure, Uncle Reu-
ben. Do you know anybody in Carolina?"

"Yes, suh. Least I know some folks whut cum fun thah. Thuh Bonwells wuz Ca'lina folks' fo' they come tuh
wes' Ten' see. They is mixed up wiv thuh Baxtals—kinda married amongst 'em, yuh know, an thuh Baxtals bein
my folks, an thuh Bonwells cum Bonwells. Yuh see, thuh Bonwells cum ovah fun No'th Carolina long time ago
an settle in wes' Ten' see, an wazin
tuh be thought well uv in the country,
they nachully git tuh know thuh Baxtals.
Thuh two families bein mo' less togetah
evah sence. Pow'ful nice folks is thuh Bonwells; only kinda hasty."

"Hasty?"

"Yes, suh, yuh knows; hasty 'bout
sayin things 'bout people an hasty 'bout reachin fo' they ponkeys. Mo' evah bit uv trouble in Ohio county used tuh have a Bonwell in it. Gwine tuh take long time fo' thuh bass, suh" (apologet-ically).

"Then tell me about the Bonwells."

"Yes, suh. Yuh see, suh, they wuz these kin uv folks whut wuz allus roun at the wrong time, allus gittin intuh trouble whut they couldn't keep outen. Uv co'se they didn't mean no harm, but yuh know how it is. A gen-man, he gits insulted by somebody, an he des got tuh fight. Thuh way thuh Bonwells. They had so much trouble thuh' atah while they des kinda got in thuh habit uv it, an when one uv 'em
got shot 'r shot somebody, nothin wuz said family roun, so they all say 'em
mus' be 'cept between thuh mediate frien's an relatives. But they wuz allus nice folks."

"Some of them in jail, I reckon, Uncle Reuben?"

"No, suh, no, suh, not as I knows.
Some uv 'em in Texas an some in New York, but none in jail. Jail is built fo' niggahs an po' whites."

"Some of the family in New York,
you say?"

"One uv 'em. He do me tuh honah uv dinin wiv me onet in while. Thuh ain' many uv 'em left anywhah now."

"One of the old families passing away, eh?"

"Yes, suh; passin way. Thuh nevah
wuz a great numbah uv thuh Bonwells,
an thuh habits uv which I spoke sho ain't fittin fo' long livin. They commene tuh thin out 'bout the time thuh Bendicts moved intuh Ohio. Them Bendicts wan't thuh bes' people, but they wuz pow'ful many. They had thuh same habit as thuh Bonwells, an bein mo' uv
'em, they had it mo'."

"Twan' long atah thuh Bendicts moved in thuh Bonwells found it out. Thuh twofan' lies had some difference 'bout a hog mark, an both sides got hasty. Thuh wuz thuh beginnin, an it went on an on until thuh wan't many uv thuh Bonwells left in wes' Ten' see. I thought yuh might have met some uv
'em in Ca'lina."

"Uv co'se in thuh affairs I'm tellin
yuh 'bout lots uv Bendicts stoppin talkin, but thuh wuz a big spring uv 'em up in the middle counties
whut they come fun, 'kase evah time
a Ben-
dict had a fun'ral, two mo'
pew Ben-
dicts come tuh thuh services.
Thuh's mighty disheartenin tuh a famly like thuh Bonwells, who is pow'ful
pice folks wiv a fault 'r two. Thuh
Ben-
dicts kep' gittin mo' an mo' plenty,
till by an by they got tuh lectin sheriffs
an judges an othahs. Then thuh Bonwells sho wuz discouraged."

"Souse me, suh, I reckon yuh bass gins be 'bout sweetenin." Uncle Reuben hurried away to the kitchen and returned with the dish. He split the sides away from the spines of the fish, arranged the accompaniments at my elbow with that show of kindness which he always took on when he had served a friend with a masterpiece, and I began the feast. The bass was excellent and the "madeery" good. Possessed with peace,

I listened while the reminiscent old darky talked of war.

"Is he des as yuh like 'im, suh?"

"All right, Uncle. Go on with the Bonwells."

"'Bout thuh las' one uv thuh Bonwells tha' I knows uv wuz Mistah Har'y. He wuz a nice genman, like his maw an paw whut I knowed, an he wuz hasty.
None uv thuh Bonwells evah saw thuh
inside uv a cotehopsa 'cept Mistah Har'y, an it mus' have been putty hand an him. Nigh as I kin onderstan 'bout tha' f'm maw frien's (tha' Mistah Har'y

gov'nub uv thuh state wuz gwine tuh speak. Some uv them Bendicts mus' have said sumpin tuh him, an thuh wuz some shootin. Some Bendicts wuz hurt mo' less, but whut wuz mighty onlucky
fo' Mistah Har'y wuz tha' a bullet hit thuh gov'nub in thuh calf uv thuh leg.
Thuh wuz a Ben-
dict sheriff an othahs uv 'em roun, an somebody had tuh git 'rested 'bout thuh bullet. Co'se it wuz Mistah Har'y. Thuh wan't no tryin tuh fin' out whos 'bullit it wuz—might have been one uv them Bendicts yuh know—but Mistah Har'y didn't have many uv his frien's wiv him. 'Twan't
long befo' evahbody in thuh county know Mistah Har'y shot thuh gov'nub. Wen a county is takin keer uv a big man like a gov'nub, 'tain't nice tuh have him shot. So Mistah Har'y had tuh go tuh cote an stan a trial des like a po' white man. Thuh gov'nub didn't have nothin tuh do wiv it. It wuz des them
Ben-

"Wen thuh judge say Mistah Har'y
mus' go tuh thuh penitentiary, I reckon Mistah Har'y mus' have made his 'rangements tuh go tuh hell fast, but des then thuh gov'nub he send down wud fun thuh
cap'tal beggin Mistah Har'y's pardon.
fo' gittin in thuh way uv his bullet, an

One Must Be the Superior.

In any living organization the supreme power never dies. The king never dies,
and against the possibility of the president dying we have made an elaborate provision, which sufficiently speaks for the danger it seeks to avoid. But in the slow moving action of the huge organisms that we call nations and governments there is time enough for kings
and presidents to sleep, to be off guard;
whereas, in the rapid movements of ships and the frequent sudden vicissitudes of sea life the captain—the captain's power—cannot sleep. It is plain to say his person must. No more than the proverbial switch tender can he, as a habit, be on duty 20 hours out of the 24. Hence arises the necessity for the watch officer, who is in charge of the deck and yested while so with all the captain's power for the conduct of that which goes on on deck or pertains to the direction. He holds this control not because he is the captain's lieutenant by grade and title, but because of the office he is then filling. Is this considered an extravagant claim—unlimited?

And as it is on deck so it is in the engine room. The man in charge there, himself in his sphere, exercises a control
as absolute as the captain and the officer of the watch—like them absolute, like them limited. But there are two on duty at the same time—the deck officer and the engine officer, the directive and the motive forces. The unity of result demands that they be not independent.
One must be the superior, and it must be the one who has charge of the directive force, as that which is the more essential to the safety and government of the vessel; not because the one man is superior to the other man, but because the one power is more important than the other.—Captain A. T. Mahan, U.
S. N., in North American Review.

France Compliments the English.

An Englishman, though generally thick skinned, does not take in an indifferent way the revilements he receives from a major part of the French press. An article in Macmillan's Magazine entitled "French and English"
complains of the treatment:

In their loudly expressed loathing of the unknown country across the channel
they forget their legitimate revenge,
and they would pretend to fold the German to their breast, as they long since welcomed his beer, if by the pretense they could put another insult upon the loathed island. For them the Englishman is a veritable bogey—a composite monster, with the maw of the ostrich,
the beak of a hawk, the claws of a tiger,
the manner of a clergyman and the cunning of an ape. This terrific creature, says the French journalist, roams
up and down the world, impelled only by the lust of plunder and of blood, but he is happiest when he is robbing the honest, Frenchman of his due or cajoling
the mild mannered Belgian (on the Kongo) into the forfeiture of his ivory.
Above all, this shameless hybrid is alert.
If the sun never sets on his empire, his eye never closes in sleep, and ever from beneath his drooping lid he spies some fresh occasion for ruin and outrage. To his impious ingenuity no limit is set.
He is capable of organizing the manufacture of dynamite and of betraying his own plot for the safety of her czar. Not long since a halfpenny print, in search of a headline, announced the murder of the sultan, and declared the Parisian journalists, the falsehood was plainly invented
by England, that monster personified, with the deliberate intent to shake the peace of Europe.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

MOTHERS, Do You Know

that Paragoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labelling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. SAMUEL PIERCE. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pierce and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children will be kept well, and that you will have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.
